Daniel Chiaccio is a printmaker currently residing in Brattleboro, Vermont, where he owns and operates a community printmaking studio called First Proof Press. Upon receiving his BFA at the New Hampshire Institute of Art, he accepted an internship at Zea Mays Printmaking, a printmaking studio focused on greener, safer, practices of printmaking. There he taught and worked as a shop tech for a few years before starting his own printmaking studio. Daniel's work combines grounded architectural designs with fantastical elements used to invoke a sense of warmth, wonder and intrigue.
